Gen. Sir John Forster Fitzgereld is believed to be the oldest soldier in the British army, if not in the world. He has seen eighty years service, his commission as ensign bearing date October 29, 1798; when he was eight years old. He joined his regiment as captain of 7½ years standing when he was sixteen; commanded a regiment at the battle of Salamahoa, and has been a full general for the last nineteen years.

AMONG late imprevements in the manufacture of FLOUR, by far the most important is the recently-discovered method of PURIFYING MID

By it a more thorough separation is effected between the outer huse as a Flour is produced of greater and more uniform purify and sweetness than can be made in the old style, and with no increase in cost.
